DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-11 are, drawn to a pharmaceutical composition comprising a combination of at least one quinolinic antimalarial compound and at least one of an inhibitor of the HIV protease, classified in class 514, subclass 311.
  - II. Claims 12-14 and 28-37 are, drawn to a method of treating or preventing HIV infection, malaria, or both in humans comprising administering to a patient, in need thereof, a combination of at least one quinolinic antimalarial compound and at least one of an inhibitor of the HIV inhibitor, classified in class 514, subclass 299
  - III. Claims 15-24 and 25-27 are, drawn to a pharmaceutical kit for treating or preventing a physiological condition associated with HIV infection, malaria or both, classified in class 514, subclass 279.
  - IV. Claims 38-48 are, drawn to a method of limiting the spread of HIV infection, malaria or both, comprising the step of exposing a cell population infected with HIV, plasmodium sp or both, classified in class 514, subclass 311
  - V. Claims 49-58 are, drawn to a method of substantially conferring antiretroviral drug-sensitivity to substantially drug-resistant HIV strains comprising the step of administering to an HIV infected human or exposing a cell population infected with HIV, classified in class 514, subclass 299.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II (or III) are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h). In the instant case group I is drawn to composition and group II (or III) are drawn to method treating or preventing HIV infection, malaria or both, yet the method of treating or preventing HIV infection, malaria can be practiced with materially different product.
3. Inventions I and IV (or V) are patentably distinct. The related inventions are distinct if the (1) the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect; (2) the inventions do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; and (3) the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the inventions as claimed have a different design, mode of operation, function, or effect. As such, a reference anticipating one group of invention would not necessarily render the other invention obvious.
4. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of an invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
